Message from the President

Swan Chamber of Commerce (Inc)

Dear Members and Stakeholders,

The Swan Chamber of Commerce is embarking on an exciting journey. The years of 2016 and 2017 have been years of overdue change and with the new Labor State Government in power, we await the delivery of their campaign promises which will support our growing region.

A key campaign promise of the elected Government is the consolidation of departments within the government sector, which will hopefully assist in the streamlining of approval and administration processes. With our newly elected Council in the City of Swan we hope to pursue our amended charrette vision which is 20 years old.

The Swan Chamber has been fortunate to attract a strong and experienced new Board of Management for the year 2017/18 that will engage with businesses, community leaders and Government at all levels to further achieve our goal of building a dynamic business community.

Our membership is growing rapidly and our team will deliver an exciting range of events and training opportunities to enable business networking, promotion and education.

The Chamber continues to meet with our local politicians as we see the Chamber has an important role in working collaboratively with the City of Swan and State and Federal governments to achieve outcomes for our brighter future.

Exciting times are ahead for the Swan Chamber of Commerce and we look forward to your involvement and support to ensure our business community continues to thrive.

Yours in business,

Gerry Hanssen

SWAN VALLEY

THE SWAN VALLEY IS JUST 25 MINUTES FROM THE BUSTLING PERTH CITY CENTRE – AND YET A WHOLE WORLD AWAY.

A melting pot of history, culture and personality, the Swan Valley is home to the finest artisans and host to some of the most stunning locales in WA.

Coupled with incredible weather and fertile soil, the Valley is where creative souls come to work and play, bringing with them their innovative pursuits that make the region sing.

Steeped in Indigenous and Mediterranean migration history, the area is covered in West Australia's oldest vines and home to trusted names like Houghtons, Sandalford and Olive Farm. Generations of families have toiled the land and produced Award-winning wines year after year. They've passed the baton down the family tree and mentored the next creator on their path to more great vintages. It's a wonderful cycle of knowledge and passion.

State of the art wineries are being established, and innovative production techniques are being trialled alongside ancient traditions, ensuring the region simultaneously embraces its history while forging a new and modern path into the future.

The creative foodie force in the air is palatable, with extra virgin olive oils and specialty cheeses, pickles and preserves, chocolates and fudges, and nuts and nougats. Artisan producers are also making complex gins and a full range of unique ciders and beers to round out the eating and drinking options in the Valley.

And sculptors and artists are congregating here too – painting, drawing and forging – and bringing innovation and inspiration to the whole community.

"The Swan Valley encompasses more than 40 world-class wineries, six breweries, two distilleries, a cidery, a meadery, myriad gourmet artisan producers, bustling markets and vibrant artist studios. That's more than 150 places to visit – to eat, drink, be inspired, relax and have fun," said City of Swan Mayor, Councillor David Lucas.

These signs indicate that the business is part of the Swan Valley Food & Wine trail and visitors are on track to having a great day.

The Swan Valley is brimming with interesting characters, including passionate third and fourth generation winemakers, artists and gourmet artisans.
